August and September 2011

Come to our general meetings and view central Pennsylvania from high atop Reservoir Park!

A newsletter for, about, and by the members of Camp 15 and Auxiliary 7.

Come One, Come All - Ladies and Brothers, and Family & Friends, all are welcome to our Camp meetings at the National Civil War Museum and field trips at-large -- Bring your camera!

In remembrance of America's Fallen on 9/11 and those that have lost their life and limbs serving our great country, this newsletter is draped in compliance with National G.O. # 3, series 2011-2012.

To all concerned personnel, Camp 15's next business meeting will be held on Sunday, September 18th 2pm at National Civil War Museum, upper level room 222, at Reservoir Park.

Brothers and Sisters welcome back from your summer activities. What did you do during the hot, dog days of summer 2011?

From Brother Russell Ottens of Tifton Georgia, "While traveling north, I was able to make a brief visit to Lykens [PA] to see the beautifully preserved G.A.R. Heilner Post No. 232.

I wanted to see the name of my great grandfather, Joseph Seiders, listed on the memorial marker in front of the building. The full list of members' names inscribed on the monument can be read at: <http://civilwar.gratzpa.org/2010/12/lykens-g-a-r-civil-war-monument/>

It was fascinating to think that Joseph Seiders was a member of this G.A.R. post and would have met in this very building after the war along with many other Dauphin County veterans”.

Yours in F. C. and L., Russ Ottens, Tifton, GA.
Member Hartranft Camp 15.

From our webmaster, Dave Demmy, Jr. - “During the week of the Pennsylvania annual encampment at Scranton, I had the privilege of being the overnight supervisor on-site at the ABC TV Show Extreme Makeover – Home Version, in Newberry Township, York County, Pennsylvania.

This house makeover was to help Brian Keefer become more independent. Keefer, 23, became paralyzed from neck down in a 2008 gymnastics accident! Keefer’s father, Steve, gave up his job to accompany his son to Lock Haven University, where Brian is majoring in recreation management. In less than seven days the family homestead was remodeled!

BRIAN AND FAMILY SEE HOUSE FOR THE FIRST TIME AFTER THE WEEKLONG MAKEOVER! PHOTOSOURCE PENNLIVE.COM – ABC TV will televise this event on Sunday, September 25, 2011.

Member of camp 15 and a weekend Sutler, our Brother D. Michael Klinepeter had knee surgery and was unable to attend the annual festivities at Gettysburg, July 2011. His father Dave Klinepeter missed the event too. It was Dave’s first absence at Gettysburg in July in many years.

Look for Dave at Army Heritage Days on October 1, 2011 at Carlisle site. Camp Curtin Historical Society will be on site sponsoring a number of exhibits and study courses.

On Saturday, January 28, 2012, Brother Dave among other Brothers of camp 15 and 503 will be visiting the annual reenactment of the WWII Battle of the Bugle at Fort Indiantown Gap, Annville, PA. You all are invited to this local reenactment of WWII. More data at <http://www.wwiifederation.org/>

The National Civil War Museum has begun to honor those killed in action during a significant Civil War battle on 150th anniversary of each battle. The Museum has begun placing "Banners of the Fallen" (blue flags for union and gray flags for fallen confederate) in front of the Museum building, each flag representing one soldier killed in action during that battle. Kicking off the first of many 150th commemorations with a ceremony on July 21, the museum invited Helen Shireman, great granddaughter of Gen. John F. Hartranft, to speak at that ceremony. Mrs. Shireman is spouse of camp 15 brother Ron Shireman. General Hartranft is the name sake for local Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War camp 15 of greater Harrisburg.

The National Civil War Museum will continue the initiative through the end of the sesquicentennial in 2015. The 1861 battles commemorated in 2011 are First Manassas and Battle of Wilson’s Creek.

Marilyn and David Demmy and daughter Jen attended David's U. S. Army 3d Armored Division (Spearhead) reunion in Memphis. Friday was declared Sgt Elvis Presley Day for Elvis was a member of 3d Armored Division (Spearhead) in mid-1950s. Among the tours of Memphis, the reunion visited the famous Graceland Mansion, but alas, the elusive Elvis was not seen. The veteran's association presented Graceland with a brass Plaque commemorating Elvis Pressley's honorable service to his country, the U. S. Army, and the 3d Armored Division (Spearhead).

Camp 15 welcomes another adult father and son team into our patriotic brotherhood - J. Danny Reed of Orwigsburg and son Chris Reed of Stewartstown, come to us by lineage of their ancestor William Hill, Co C, 50th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry who was KIA at Wilderness. They were scheduled to be initiated on Sunday the 18th, but by press time, Danny underwent eye surgery; so they will be inducted together at our October 16th meeting. Meet Chris at our September meeting on 18th.

Brothers and Sisters in Distress.

Some of our members across our grand order are still recovering from Good Nite Hurricane Irene.

National Treasurer Richard Orr continues to recuperate from his recent hospital stay.

Camp Brother Don Fry is recuperating too!

Brother Lynn Kyle is recuperating from a broken leg. Son Linnie, camp 15's sole junior, continues to excel as a school athlete, a chip off the old block! Our late Brother, Gilbert Kyle, grandfather to Linnie played football at former John Harris High School, Harrisburg, which is within walking distance of our National Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War headquarters at Reservoir Park. You ask for trivia and we try to provide it.

Our prayers and concerns are with new Brother Danny Reed during his surgery and recuperation period.

We offer our prayers and condolence to Mrs. Floyd Demmy on the passing of her Brother Richard Jacobs, formerly of uptown Harrisburg.

Brother Joe Long, PDC, of Camp 8 at Scranton continues with his recuperation: Joe is due to go to the Veterans Admin Hospital in Wilkes Barre to be fitted with prosthesis. Since it will include a prosthetic knee he will most likely have more difficulty walking than he had with the first prosthesis. The doctors believe his situation is due to his exposure to Agent Orange during his Marine tour of duty in Vietnam. Semper Fi Brother Joe! Editor's Note: The Hartranft staff visited with Joe at Department Commander Howard F Wolfe's luncheon testimonial on Sunday, September 10 at Scranton. Brother Joe was very upbeat and in great spirits. At no time did he appear in discomfort!

Others have personal concerns and wish not to be identified. We will add all of our Brothers and Sisters to our prayer lists. God bless you and yours and God Bless the United States of America!

ROTC Camp Coordinator

Camp 15's immediate past Camp Commander, Greg Kline, one of the busiest Brothers we know, and Commander of new camp 503 in Sunbury, has taken on the role of Camp 15's ROTC coordinator. Brother Greg will interface with local schools that offer Jr ROTC program. A deserving cadet is one that "shows a high degree of patriotism to his/her Nation and has demonstrated a high degree of academic performance and leadership."

CIVIL WAR SESQUICENTENNIAL 150 by Dave Klinepeter

REENACTING THE FIRST BATTLE OF BULL RUN (MANASSAS July 23 and 24th 2011).

(No I did not participate.) I have looked at numerous videos and chatted with several people involved with it. There were about 20 different events over the 4 day week end with the actual battle on Saturday and Sunday. on a farm next to the National Park. One of our Camp 15 Members, PCC Larry Keener-Farley, was present at one of these events. The Victorian Dance Ensemble taught several classes and led the Blue Grey Ball, in the town. Another event that impressed me was the dedication on July 21st of a battle marker, on the actual National Park battlefield, to the U.S. Marines, who fought their. There were about 350 Marine recruits in Washington D.C. at the time and they were marched to Manassas VA. They fought quite well. Lost over 150 men and when ordered to retreat, MARCHED in formation (not ran) back to Washington D.C. In watching the video of the program I noted their reenactment unit stood at attention during the whole program. The two Marines who uncovered the battle marker had just returned from overseas a month ago. I understand, due to the extreme heat, a number of the troops did not show up, a number of the troops packed up and went home on Saturday evening, even a number of the Sutler's did not set up. I can relate to the troops, having been in many reenactments under a variety of conditions.

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL (100) July 21 to 23, 1961 BATTLE OF BULL RUN by Dave Klinepeter

This reenactment I did participate in! Yes it was hot, between 90 and 100 degrees and high humidity. (This is some of my memories of the 100th Battle of Bull Run)

Our artillery unit was (Battery E1st Penna Light Artillery North-South Skirmish Association.) We served a 10 pound parrot on the flank next to the Henry House. There were other cannon along side our battery. The reenactors were camped on a part of the actual battlefield and the reenactment took place on the original battlefield. (Participates are no longer allowed to reenact on the original National Park sites, see further down.) Battery Commander Donald Demmy Wagner's son, Eddie Demmy Wagner and Private Dave Klinepeter's son Mike, also a Camp 15 member, (both 12 years old wanted to be there but could not participate in the battle, so they agreed to be FETCH and CARRY, saved quite a bit of work for us older members. Our unit arrived several days early, to set up and set off sight seeing. On the Friday they held a dress rehearsal, which was attended by a large crowd. On firing our cannon we were not pleased with the sound of woomp from our cannon, it did not have that expected boom, we needed to figure something out for the next day. See participation badge below.

There were approximately 2000 National Guard infantry involved. They were there to represent each of the states in the original battle that did not have Civil War reenacting units. Of course their weapon was the M-1 Garand rifle which has quite a different sound from the muskets, especially when using rapid fire. Their instructions were to fire slowly, but [it] did not work at times. Saturday morning. Some troops arrived on the Southern Railroad at Manassas; there was a martial parade through the streets of town. Before the battle there was an artillery parade for the spectators. Fifty artillery horses had been purchased and specially trained for the reenactment. They gave a demonstration of an artillery unit at the full gallop and swinging into battle position. I had the chance to ride on a limber chest, but thank goodness, not at the gallop (no springs). With our batteries on the Henry Hill we had a clear view of the two armies facing each other. The Union on the left and the Confederates on the right side. Our guns were to be overrun by the rebels early in the battle. On the one day a nasty incident happened, we fired our cannon just a the Rebs charged, on the gun next to us there was a mishap, the order was given to cease fire, one of their battery men ran out to drape himself over the barrel but the man on the lanyard thought the order was to fire and did. The young fellow took the full blast in the chest, He did survive. During the battle, a Confederate reenactor was hit in the shoulder by a Minie ball skirt from a poorly cleaned gun. His uniform coat took the impact and thank goodness he only had a bruise. Another fellow had a broken ear drum from his buddy firing too close to him. After our Battery was overrun, we lay down, crawled over to the limber chest, picked up our cartridge boxes and muskets, crawled around in back of the Henry House and joined the Union line. On the Sunday there was another incident. The instructions and rules for the whole affair included, no bayonets were to be drawn, only officers could use swords, no trying to take anyone's Colors, also no picking up someone else's equipment. Near the center of the Union line was positioned the Lancaster (Pa) Fencibles (they made a fine sight, highly trained, fully equipped, their uniforms looked like the "Iron Brigade", Seems a number of Confederates made a charge toward them with the intent of capturing the colors, as the Rebs came a little too close the Officer in charge of the Fencibles gave the order "fix bayonets", by that time Confederate Officers put a stop to the charge. The battle went on and as we all know the Confederates won. This was the start of large reenactments. Because of the damage to the field, trash cleanup, injuries suffered, sanitation, traffic and logistical problems the National Park Service came up with guidelines for events on park property. The next year at the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Antietam it was not held on the National Park site but on farmers fields next to it, The National Parks do have numerous events, but not battle reenactments.
